GERM DISCOVERY REPORTS.

Results of Investigations During the Yellow Fever Epidemic.

New Orleans, Jan. 24.—It was announced yesterday for the first time that at the meeting of the New Orleans Medical Society Saturday, Dr. Paul E. Archibald, bacteriologist of the Louisiana State board of health, made a report of his investigation during the late yellow fever prevalence and his search for the yellow fever germ, announcing the complete success accomplished by him and his assistants.

The experiments have been conducted for the past four months by Dr. Archibald, assisted by the student bacteriologist, Dr. Woodson, of Johns Hopkins University, and Dr. John J. Archibald, demonstrator of bacteriology in Tulane University, who have been carrying on the work at the laboratory of the Louisiana State board of health. The first experiments are said not to have been successful. They continued the work, however, applying the agglutination test to the germ of yellow fever, which consists in the application of the blood of a suspected case to the germ of yellow fever. If the blood will cause the other germs to crowd together in clumps.

Pursuing the treatment they were able to find the germ of yellow fever in 87 per cent of the specimens of blood submitted, whereas Sanarelli, the discoverer of the yellow fever germ, could find it in only 46 per cent of his cases.

The investigation was made at the same time in dengue and typhoid fever, which diseases prevailed here side by side with the yellow fever. It was shown that the yellow fever germ was associated in some of the cases with the germs of those other diseases, which probably accounts for some of its peculiarities and the difficulty of diagnosing many of the cases. The tests prove clearly the advantage of the bacteriological diagnosis of yellow fever, rendering it easy to determine the presence of the disease by the examination of the blood.

It is believed that it will be found possible by the use of a similar serum treatment to that adopted with other diseases either to render a person immune against yellow fever by giving them, as in the case of small-pox, a mild attack of that disease, or curing the yellow fever itself after it has been discovered in the patient by an examination of his blood, as has been done in the case of diphtheria, and as proposed by Dr. Sanarelli.

Dr. Woodson left here with a number of cultures for Johns Hopkins University. The United States Marine Hospital physicians conducted similar bacteriological investigations here during the late yellow fever season, but removed their cultures when they left the city some time ago. It was understood that the medical commission sent to Cuba would carry on in that country the investigations begun here.

Rublin and Bendorf to Meet in Baltimore Tonight.

TEN EYCK DOES NOT SCARE

Will Be on Hand in England Next Summer to Defend the Diamond Sculls—Rebo of the Polk Budget "Hitting"—Vasey-Raedy Fight Tomorrow Night.

Everything is in readiness for the boxing carnival of the Eureka Athletic Club tonight at Music Hall, Baltimore, when the much-talked-of heavyweight battle between Gus Rublin, of Akron, Ohio, and Wolf Bendorf, of England, will be settled. The principals are in splendid trim and full of confidence.

Billy Madden, the manager and backer of Rublin, has made a few bets on his man's chances, though he admits that Bendorf, who is a strong and willing boxer, may surprise all hands by showing up in winning style. The boxers for the preliminary bouts are all in Baltimore, and are ready for the fray. George Mantz, the official referee of the club will do duty in all of the bouts.

The Music Hall, which seats nearly 5,000 people has been fitted up for the occasion and the heavy demand for tickets indicates a large attendance. Rublin will have in his corner Billy Madden, Charlie Goff, who is matched to meet "Kid" McCoy, and Pat Raedy, who is matched to meet Bendorf, will be handled by Alex Clinch, Big Six, Joe Gans and Jim Janey.

Mike Canney, manager of the Spa Athletic Club, at Bladensburg, has completed arrangements to take a crowd of sports over to Baltimore tonight to witness the contest.

Reports came from England a few days ago to the effect that should young Ten Eyck attempt to row at Henley next summer in the diamond sculls he would experience some difficulties. Ten Eyck, who is attending the dental department of the University of Pennsylvania, when asked his opinion concerning the report, said he thought there was nothing in it, and that it was simply a newspaper story. If it was true, he said, it was simply an attempt to scare him out, but if so, they were mistaken in the man, as he intended going to England next summer and defending his championship. "There is no ground," said he, "on which they can keep me out. Last year a thorough investigation was made as to my standing as an amateur, and absolutely nothing was found that could serve as a pretext to keep me out of the race. The definition of an amateur in England differs very much from the American idea. Here an amateur is one who has not competed with a professional. One who has received money for coaching or training is considered to have lost his amateur standing. Now, the English idea contains this much, and in addition it holds that any one who has earned his living as an artisan is no longer an amateur. I have been a clerk, a bookkeeper, or a merchant and keep his standing. But if his occupation is among the laboring class he is a professional." Ten Eyck says he fulfills all the conditions required by the English rule, and if he is kept out of the race it will be on other grounds than that of professionalism. It seems the English do have the idea of a nineteen-year-old American boy winning the sculls by a good distance over their crack oarsmen, but as the English are open to all comers young Ten Eyck will be found on hand next summer. Ten Eyck has commenced training under Coach Mike Murphy at the university, and at the close of the school year he will return home and commence work on the water under the efficient coaching of his father.

After six years of exile from the turf Johnnie Brannon, one of the notorious Brannon brothers of Polk Budget fame, has been seen in New York City, where he is now residing at the Hotel Hamilton. Brannon, who was banished from the turf by the Rockey Creek Stables, entered an aged horse under the name of Polk Budget. No one in New York had heard of the animal. He was in with a lot of noisy doers, such as had ones as Latonia Bill, Harry Prospect and others being in the field. The fact that Polk Budget was such an unknown caused his price to be 25 and 30 to 1, even in such a bad lot. As soon as the prices were settled the Brannon brothers and their confederates began to bet. They put on small sums, but prices and big sums at small prices. They bet from "bell ring to bell ring." and Polk Budget, who had opened at 25 and 30 to 1, went to the post at 8 to 5. Polk Budget won the race in a common canter, with his head pulled sideways. His jockey pulled him down to a walk in order not to win too far. The numbers went up and the bets were paid. The Latonia ring and pool rooms throughout the country were hit for $30,000 by the victory of Polk Budget. Then the fact that the alleged Polk Budget was none other than a good race horse named Tanner, whom they had purchased in the East. Tanner was a high-class horse and owned an interest in Tanner being ruled off. Johnnie Brannon, the man who was reinstated last week, had but little, if anything, to do with the race. He was in Chicago when the race was run, and the only information that could be found against him was that he had bet $50 on Polk Budget in a Chicago pool room.

All persons connected with the fraudulent race had bad luck. Keith, the boy who rode the race, but who knew nothing about his mount, was killed in a race sometime afterward. Richard Brannon, one of the brothers, died last winter. The others members of the family have also had hard luck.

Al Vasey, of Philadelphia, and Pat Raedy, of this city, are both in fine condition for their meeting tomorrow evening. It will be a finish fight for the championship of the South and will take place at the Spa Athletic Club, Jake Kilrain, of Baltimore, will referee the bout, which is a guarantee that each man will get all that is coming to him. The sporting fraternity of Washington will attend in large numbers and a racing good will is looked for. The two men are so evenly matched that it is a hard matter to select a favorite.

Everett J. Brown, captain of the crack team of the University of California, who has just returned to Berkeley, Cal., from an Eastern trip, taken in the interests of the athletic association of his college, asserts that the athletes of the Eastern colleges are not amateurs in the true sense of the word. At a meeting of the athletic association of his college he said in this connection: "We are told to look to the East as the acme of dignified amateur athletics, but I tell you that we are far better right here in the West. Amateurism is a mere pretense in some of the big universities. When I told them our methods they laughed, and said they savored of the 'prep school'."

The New Jersey Chess Association will hold its thirteenth annual meeting at the Palace Club, Jersey city, for the decision of the State of the championship and other tournaments on Washington's birthday, February 22.

Charles Hoyt, the playwright, is credited with a desire to purchase the Chicago Baseball club. He is said to be willing to give $100,000 for a controlling interest, and then turn the team over to Anson.

The biggest cocking main to be held in this country in the last fifty years is being planned to take place during the present week, near Chicago. The main, which is to be between local chickens and some brought from the East by Boston, is to be for $5,000 a side between twenty-one birds. Outside of a main stake a side bet of $250 is to be fought for by every bird.

August Lehr, the champion cyclist of Germany, and Nat Butler, will meet February 1, at the Quarter Mile track in Belleair, Fla., in a three-day race. The Lehr-Sanger match, scheduled for the same date, had to be called off.

If Corbett and Fitzsimmons ever sign articles for a finish, Syracuse, N. Y., will make an effort to have their second battle decided there. A. A. Graff, owner of the Grand Opera House, of Syracuse, has announced that he will hang up a purse of $25,000 for a finish contest between the champion and the former champion, the men meet under the auspices of the Empire Athletic Club.

The offer of Mr. Graff is made in good faith. He is interested in a great many sporting matters, and desires to see a fight between "Jim the Penman" and "Lanky Bob."

When seen in Syracuse in regard to his offer, Mr. Graff said: "I am going to New York Tuesday night to interview Billy Brady, Corbett's manager, regarding my offer. I intend to send a representative to talk with Fitzsimmons. If my offer is accepted, the fight will have to be postponed, as they will meet under circumstances that will guarantee them full protection. I am of the opinion that a scientific contest such as Corbett and Fitzsimmons will give will be allowed in New York State, and I think the ideal place for the contest is here in Syracuse."

"Kirk Park is fitted up to hold 25,000."

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH.

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe Effectual Cure for It.

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloated sensation after eating; accompanied sometimes with vomiting, or watery risings; a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs, and difficult breathing; headache, fickle appetite, nervousness, and a general paler, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue, and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a stony, inflamed condition. The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach.

To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do, and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harrison the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aspicin, Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores. Under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and, not being a patent medicine, can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. N. J. Bocher, of 2710 Dearborn st., Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed, and the poisonous discharge, therefore, passing backward into the throat, reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling."

"I have found flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

Send for little book, mailed free, on stomach troubles, by addressing Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich. The tablets can be found at all drug stores.

400 people easily, and the present authorities in this city would not be adverse to allowing Corbett and Fitzsimmons to meet here. If special legislation is needed at Albany to cover such a contest, and I hardly think so, as the Horton law is still in force, I think that enough votes could be secured in the senate and assembly to pass such a bill as was passed in Nevada.

"At any rate I am going out to bring Fitzsimmons and Corbett together, and if Fitzsimmons is willing I know Corbett will consent to fight here."

It is rumored in Philadelphia that there is a deal on foot involving the transfer of Sam Thompson to Cincinnati in exchange for Dusty Miller. It is a well-known fact that Ewing has always had a profound regard for Big Sam, and does not believe that he has outlived his usefulness. Thompson, if he is able to play anything like the ball of which he was once capable, would fit in nicely with the Reds, while Miller would be nearer the idea of a ball player, entertained by Manager Stallings. The suggested deal might be advantageous to both clubs.

Tod Sloane, who has just returned from across the water, has this to say in regard to the starting in England: "During the time that I was riding in England, I never saw a jockey either mounted or dismounted. The system seems to be incomparably superior to anything we have seen here. I don't pretend to account for it, and could not say whether the speed would be with the jockeys or the starter. But I do know that all the fuss and bother and recrimination are only notable by their absence."

Fast pace will be essential to success in the middle distance game this season, and the experts are figuring the possibilities of speed to be obtained from the big multicycles, manned by the sturdy pace-makers. Michael has shown that the pace can be none too fast, and it is still a question as to just what speed the little Welshman can furnish. But the advent of motor cycle racing will settle that question, for electric machines will be used on the track this season that are capable of speed from a mile in 1:30 to the same distance in an even minute.

Astelle, who was one of the most valuable brood mares in Kentucky, has died at the home of her owner, J. Breckinridge Wiley, and August Belmont's Sultan, a race horse, has been sold to Lexington. Astelle was owned by Mary Churchill, whose sire was Alex Churchill.

Frank Bowser, of the Belmont Driving Club, William B. Fasig, of New York, and M. M. Morse, of Hartford, Conn., have been appointed as the committee to select a site for the World's Congress, at Murray Hill Hotel, New York, on February 9.

The match for the indoor cycling championship, $1,000 and an additional sum to be put up by some cycling club of St. Louis, has been made, and will take place at St. Louis Coliseum early for February. The contestants will be Jay Eaton and Charles Kaser, the champion of Switzerland.

John C. Carr, one of Gutenberg's big four, is to be an applicant for the position of starter on the Jockey Club tracks and will offer to work one week free of charge. There are any number of such aspirants, and selecting a starter will be no easy job.

Some of the open dates in the University of Pennsylvania basketball schedule will be filled in by games with the Philadelphia League team.

It is said that Yale will arrange a race with Wisconsin.

M. F. Dwyer has engaged John Lamle for second jockey. Lamle will do light weights, since he can ride at 100 pounds.

The New York Athletic Club will make application for a permit to hold professional boxing contests.

Altogether Tod Sloane rode 58 races in England, and of these he won 20, was second in nine, and third in six.

Rutgers College has organized a four-carred crew.

Fred Taral says he will be able to ride as low as 100 pounds next season.

IN A TRANCE AT A REVIVAL.

Another Case Like Miss Sharp's at Stockton, N. J.

New York, Jan. 24.—The revival that is being conducted at Stockton, N. J., seems to have a remarkable effect on the nerves of the congregation. There is an obsession in the atmosphere that holds one suddenly in a trance sleep. Under circumstances similar to the cataleptic fit with which Miss Ida Sharp was seized last Sunday, another young woman, Miss Ida Duffield, became suddenly cataleptic yesterday, and remained in the church amid great excitement.

About one-half of the big congregation that Evangelist J. Winfield Thompson faced last night in the Wesley M. E. Church went away provoked. They had come to hear Miss Ida May Sharp tell her experience of visiting heaven in a trance, which she lay for three days, beginning with last Sunday.

Miss Sharp was present, and liberal announcements had been made through the local and Camden papers that she would speak. At the opening of the service, with the house jammed to the service, chairs down the aisles, benches from the infant school in every available space and the hallway filled, Evangelist Thompson said:

"We are glad to see so many here, but fear those who came out of curiosity will be disappointed. Miss Sharp is not to speak tonight at all. The announcements that she would be unauthorized. That is all I have to say now, except that these meetings will continue every night, and if you come to every one you may hear her speak.

The big congregation, however, had plenty of excitement, for while Pastor Thompson was in the midst of his sermon, above the chorus of "Amen," there came a girl's moans and cries. It was Miss Ida Duffield, a girl of about eighteen. Then she fell unconscious in her seat.

She was carried out in a young man's arms and laid in one of the class rooms. Miss Sharp went out and helped in watching by her. Miss Duffield lay silent and pale on a bench. Like Miss Sharp a week ago, she uttered no word and gave no sign of life, save the rolling of the eyes.

She was taken to her home nearby and a physician summoned. It was declared to be a condition of trance.

A Chinese Laundry Looted.

While Sam Hing, of No. 421 East Capitol street northeast, was drinking rice wine and celebrating the Chinese New Year Saturday evening burglars entered his laundry and thoroughly ransacked the place. The thieves stole $20 in cash, a Smith and Wesson revolver, valued at $15, seven dozen handkerchiefs, one gold-plated watch and chain and a red silk shawl and necktie. The robbery was not discovered until the return of Sam Hing, who quickly related his troubles to Policeman Lusby. The latter reported the robbery at the Fifth precinct station.

The Curse of Gold.

Democratic free silver leaders have resolved upon an experiment in political campaign work. With the influence of Senator Jones, Representatives McMullen, Hayden, Simpkins, and other politicians, a company has been incorporated under the name of the American Brans Company. The first play to be produced is the "Curse of Gold," which the silverites claim is another "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and from it they are most sanguine of the greatest results. Silver Senators and Representatives think it will be received with the same manifest enthusiasm as the Healey's Maroon has received from the people. Maroon is sold where a framed glass sign with the words "Maroon Beer" in gold letters is displayed, and also in bottles by the Arlington Bottling Co., phone 634.

"I have used Ripans Tabules an they have done me lots of good, at least my wife says they have," asserts William Donaldson, a blacksmith. "After a hard day's work I would eat too much, I guess," continued he, "and suffer like everything. My wife's brother told me that Ripans Tabules had helped him and he thought they would help me. I believe they have cured me, but I still take them regular, for I would not have them pains again for anything. My partner said, after I was so much better, that I was ready to get well anyhow, and that I would have got well without them. I believe there are lots of people that are ready to get well just like I was. They will get well when they take the same medicine I did, and not before. I have worked hard all my life, first on a farm and then in a blacksmith shop, and have been troubled with dyspepsia ever since I was 18 years old. Now I feel like I was sweet sixteen. I think Ripans Tabules are a great medicine."
